Superintendent's Highlights

The district is nearing completion of the alignment of the language arts and reading curriculum to state standards. This two-year process has involved all elementary and secondary language arts teachers by mapping curriculum and insuring that all state standards are incorporated into language arts instruction at the appropriate grade level. Textbooks and materials have been selected, with parental input, in writing and reading.

The School Improvement Process has been a focus during the past year. With stakeholder input, data has been analyzed, goals written and action plans put into place to focus school improvement efforts on attendance and tardy policies, a school-wide discipline plan and the continuation of aligning district curriculum to state standards.

The district received a Results-Based Model grant from the state allowing district staff to receive training to improve services provided to students. This model is helping staff to improve our Teacher Assistance Team.

Progress Towards Meeting District Goals

2001-02 Goals

Progress

Continue to increase student achievement in all academic areas.

Genesee students continue to achieve significantly above state averages in all subject areas with few exceptions. ITBS, IRI, DWA and DMA assessments demonstrated a very strong achievement in reading, math and language arts.

Train teachers to provide the highest quality instruction using best practices.

The community provided monthly early release days for teachers that enabled them to work on their individual professional development action plans. Most teachers spent considerably more time working on their goals for improving their skills in the classroom.

Enhance opportunities for students to gain college credits while still in high school and improve professional-technical offerings.

Students received college credit through LCSC for Psychology class. Students were enrolled in a CNA course taught at GHS by the regional academy. New technical classes were added in machining technology and horticulture.

Continue to align curriculum with state standards.

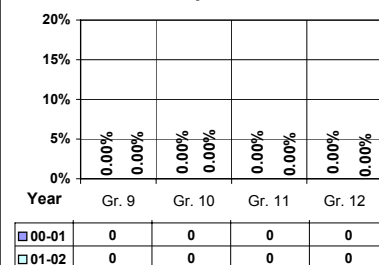

Significant progress was made aligning Language Arts curriculum to state standards. Teachers, Trustees and administrators continued training in the alignment process.
